

A. L. FILENE URGES STUDY OF UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

STATE BOARD IS FAACED BY NEGOTIANT

Action Is Needed to Avert the Business Depressions in Future, He Says

Declaring that it is inevitable that some form of unemployment insurance "will be forced upon us," A. Lincoln Filene today warned the House committee on ways and means that it behooves Massachusetts to at least make some sort of intelligent study of the benefits and disadvantages of such a scheme.

With a number of other prominent business men and manufacturers, Mr. Filene appeared before the committee in favor of the creation of a special commission to study the question of unemployment insurance, with an annual appropriation of $50,000. The commission would be appointed for a term of two years by the Governor. They would advise without pay.

Mr. Filene pointed out to the committee that all sorts of propositions have been made as to the cause and cure of the present depression, but that no one has guessed right. Instead of guessing, he said, reasonable conclusions should be at hand whereby plans can be made to reduce unemployment to a minimum.

The question being raised by Representative Albert J. Blagden of Brookline as to the state's bearing the entire cost of such a commission, Mr. Filene replied that the chamber of commerce and business men in general may be counted upon to bear their full share of the work.

INDUSTRY FOR FEARS

He made the point that business, industry and the working man can no longer get along alone and that co-operative effort should have behind it the backing of the state. He contended that if the problem of seasonal unemployment was solved the creation of the commission would be more than justified and the amount expended saved many times over.

Henry N. Denison, president of the Denison Manufacturing Company, told the committee that business and industry is now keenly alive to the value of such a commission and can be depended upon as far as it is in their power to give every help in the work.

BOYS FIGHT DEATH CHAIR

Three youths went on trial in Middlesex Superior Criminal Court today for the slaying of Sonja, age 14, Bagel, Somerville, factory worker, less than a month after the murder.

The defendants, John D. Wall, 20; John Oliver, 18; and Walter Jones, 18, all of Somerville, were charged with shooting Bagel during an attempted robbery at the filling station, where drive and Myrtle ave., Somerville, the night of February 2.

Selection of jurors began after John J. Giblin had denied a motion to permit the defendants to bring their plea of not guilty and have the indictment quashed. A motion to the effect was filed by Attorney William H. Lewis, counsel for Oliver.

John A. Fyfe of Marlborough, a shoe manufacturer, was the first juror chosen, followed by Martin J. Maguire of Framingham, an employee at the Denison factory in that town.

MOBIL JURORS CHOSEN
During the day more than 100 jurors were chosen, with 51 veniremen examined, were challenged by the Government, 30 by the defense and 17 were excused.

They were John O. Coyle, Lowell, landman; Philip C. Hawken, Belmont, salesman; Patrick H. Finn, Lowell, laborer; George P. Dennis, Cambridge, printer; Frank V. King, Lowell, shipper; Clarence E. Flaherty, Somerville, carpenter; and J. Henry Quinn, Lowell, fireman.

The next three jurors chosen were John O. Coyle, Lowell, landman; Philip C. Hawken, Belmont, salesman; and Patrick H. Finn, Lowell, laborer.

Numerous challenges were exercised by the defense, and by the government, represented by Dist. Atty. Warren E. Hibbs. Bagel, married and the father of two children, was shot down by a smiling bandit, one of a trio who rode up to the filling station in a stolen automobile, at a time when traffic was heavy.

In a dying statement the filling station proprietor related that the gunmen entered the office shortly before 10 o'clock, and brandishing guns ordered him to hand over his cash. As they did so, "Beauty," a police dog owned by Bagel, jumped on the gunmen, one of whom shot the animal to death.

grinned and fired a shot into Bagel's stomach. The trio then fled in the stolen automobile, and their victim was removed to the hospital, where he lay long enough to tell his story and identify a couple of photographs of one of his associates.

MARCONI'S NEW RADIO PROJECT

By KINGSBURY SMITH
International News Correspondent

London, April 21.—Development of the ultra short radio waves may lead to communication with the planets. If any of the latter are inhabited by humans.

This is the belief of the Marconi Corporation, which is working on the project. The Marconi Corporation is working on the project of communicating with the planets.

Ultra short waves may have the advantage of traveling in a straight line, and are interrupted by natural obstacles and air currents, the scientists said.

"But in free space they have big possibilities and perhaps a way of communicating with the planets may be established. We are approaching something extremely important and anything may happen."

actual flying time was shorter than that of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, although she made longer stops on the ground.

Last month, over New Jersey, she set an altitude record for women which since apparently has been broken by Miss Nichols, although no official record has been announced.

And a week ago, at Detroit, she flew the jet monoplane, with its streamlined body and trick landing gear, 21000 miles an hour—the highest speed ever attained by a woman.

MISS NICHOLS' FLYING
Miss Nichols could not be located today. It was said she had gone away to the country to rest.

There have been rumors for several weeks that Miss Nichols was planning a solo flight to Paris.

Her long ago her press representative said: "She'd do it in a minute if she could get the ship and the backing."

The Crocker-Lawson Corporation has agreed to lend her the ship, and it was said today she obtained the necessary financial backing.

The only other woman who attempted a solo transatlantic flight was her friend, Miss Smith. Two years ago Miss Smith, then only 18, persuaded her parents to let her fly, and went ahead with her plans. The flight was dropped, however, after her fiancé broke off the engagement.

One of the chief questions at issue was whether a girl was strong enough to get an airplane, carrying as much fuel as is needed for a transatlantic flight, off the ground.

Now women ever have flown as fast and fiery a ship as that in which Miss Nichols will set out for Paris. It was said today that the Crocker-Lawson office laughed at her when she first tried to borrow it. They didn't think a woman could handle it. But Miss Nichols did.

Two partners and an employee in the firm, Arthur Drees Co. of Washington, D. C., were found guilty in Federal Court today of concealing assets of $200 in bankruptcy proceedings.

BLONDE BEAUTY TO DIVORCE DARK HUSBAND

PLANS FOR SUIT REVEALED IN LOS ANGELES

Helen Lee Worthing, formerly of Brookline and hailed as America's most beautiful blonde, when, under the Ziegfeld banner, she achieved the heights on Broadway, has come to the parting of the ways with her Negro husband, Dr. Eugene C. Nelson.

This she revealed in Los Angeles, Cal., where she is planning to file suit for divorce within the next few days.

Miss Worthing is the daughter of Richard F. Worthing, a Boston business man, and prior to her stage debut in 1920 she lived with her father on Beacon st., Brookline.

WON BEAUTY HONORS
In 1929 she was selected for first honors over 10,000 competitors in a national beauty contest conducted by a moving picture concern, and shortly after that decided upon a stage career. At that time she assumed the name of Worthing.

Miss Worthing and Dr. Nelson were married in Los Angeles, in June, 1927, and went to Los Angeles, there to reside in an exclusive district of Hollywood. Later, however, the couple moved to the former town of Broadway lived virtually in seclusion.

HAS RETAINED LAWYER
Two years later, she announced that she had separated from her husband and since then rumors of a divorce have been repeatedly heard.

This time, however, it is definite, according to her lawyer, Ruben Licker, who declared he is at work on the documents at present.

Miss Worthing said her decision to seek a divorce was reached since her return, a few weeks ago, from an engagement at Madison, Wis., where she was sent for treatment for a nervous condition. It was the second institution of its kind she has been in within the past six months, having previously gone to a neurological institution in New York.

In 1922 Miss Worthing obtained a divorce from Charles McDonald on the grounds of desertion. She had secretly married him in 1917.

POISONS, HANGS 3 BABIES

Mrs. Webster L. Wainwright of Syracuse, N. Y., whose husband, 68, hanged their three young children and himself. The wife had left him and threatened to return and kidnap the children. Wainwright had first given the children poison, but, finding it too slow in action to suit him, resorted to hanging and used the same rope to end his own life.

HUSBAND HANGS 3 CHILDREN TO PUNISH WIFE

Syracuse, N. Y., April 21.—To make their mother suffer, Webster L. Wainwright, 68, hanged his three children one at a time and resorted to writing their "holier" and "holier" notes.

He hanged himself with the same rope, after placing the bodies of the three children on couches with heavy pillows under their heads.

This was the way investigating authorities today reconstructed the tragedy yesterday in the Wainwright home, while planning to arrest Mrs. Wainwright, 31, and her alleged sweetheart, Harry Blanchard, on statutory charges.

The children were Rosalind, 11, Richard, nine, and Jacqueline, four.

"The worst sight I saw was when I cut Rosalind and Richard. They hanged so," wrote the father in his farewell note.

CLUBBED AND POISONED
It is suspected that he administered poison as well as clubbed and hanging them, and while they were moaning, he wrote out only the note but half a dozen letters, straining for the funerals and calling down the wrath of heaven on his wife.

"I hope that you will see the action of yours as long as you live and that you can't sleep until you ask the Lord to ask me to forgive you," he wrote.

"Now you can't have him or me either. The law will deal with you and I hope hard enough to learn you something. You will do as I say. You were the one to get me to take the bottle of gin."

You were the one I was sent to jail for.

"But it is all over and I am sorry, as I did want to see those dear children grown up and taken care of. You said I was yellow. It is you that is yellow, not me. Now I am going to do the deed."

"Now, Rosalind died at 4:30 and Richard at 4:45 and the baby at 5. Now I think the worst sight I saw I had to club Rosalind and Richard, they hanged so loud, and had to hang them so no one would hear them."

"Oh, you are to blame for it. So I will say goodbye for ever."

HOSTESS HELD IN RUM RAID

Police Bail of $200 was increased to $500 by Judge Ahern in Roxbury court today when Miss Eva Lambert was arraigned on liquor charges, the outgrowth of a raid on the Blue Flame restaurant, Beacon st., Back Bay, Saturday night.

She pleaded not guilty to keeping and serving liquor for sale and selling intoxicating liquor. Bail was provided and she was released for a hearing April 29.

Six couples were in bottles at the restaurant when raiders led by Sgt. Harold Watkins entered the place, and their names were taken. Police alleged that the five was an employee and that they bought liquor from her and the proprietor, who fled and was not captured.

Ex-Pack Pedlar on Trip in Palace Car of Raid Head

Kansas City, April 21 (AP)—His prediction having come true, Simon Fishman, a Kansas wheat king, is on a month's tour at the expense of L. M. Baldwin, president of the Missouri Pacific. Once a pack pedlar, Fishman went to Tribune, Greeley County, 11 years ago. Little or no wheat was raised there. He told Baldwin time would come when 1,000, 100 bushels would be shipped out of the county. The time has come, Baldwin's private car is at Fishman's disposal.

Omaha, Neb., April 21 (AP)—Three old women—charging that they are in an old and deserted building here today, rocking back and forth as they steadfastly refused to move into Douglas County's new $700,000 poorhouse, described by officials as the "best in the country."

All of the other inmates of the poor farm were transferred to the new building and were comfortable. Flocks of attendants to the three old women, however, were of no avail.

"People don't want to be as nice to us as the neighbors here," said one of them.

"I just don't want to move so far out into the country," said another, while the third insisted she was staying at the old home because she was "well situated."

BEGGS HOOVER TO SAVE SLAYER

Washington, April 21 (AP)—A message from the President of Portugal to President Hoover asking clemency for Joaquim Pinto Soares, a 32-year-old man charged with murder in Lowell, Mass., has been received by the State Department and referred to the State Department.

Soares was convicted of the murder of an 18-year-old girl at Lowell and sentenced to electrocution. It is the second message the President of Portugal has sent President Hoover.

The affair, it was said at the White House, is entirely that of the state of Massachusetts as the trial took place in a state court.

Unless the federal courts become involved, there is little possibility that federal government can take any action other than to send the petition of the President of Portugal to the Governor of Massachusetts.

CHICAGO PROBES POLICE HEADS

Chicago, April 21 (AP)—Special grand jurors, seeking to uncover alleged police graft today were getting the private banking records of Chicago police captains under scrutiny.

The records of the financial affairs of 17 captains already were in the jury's possession, and the information reported to have been obtained led to an announcement by officials that the inquiry would be extended to include every bank of the department where crookedness might be suspected.

Officials of more than 20 banks yesterday told the jurors what they knew of the accounts of six of the 17 captains, and while an official announcement was made of exactly what they revealed, the Herald and Examiner said it was learned that one captain had been depositing as much as $200.

"We are on the right track at last," said J. A. Farmer, foreman of the jury. "We found substantial sums which are suspicious at best. In the case of one police captain we found that he had been carrying separate accounts in two different banks. In other instances we found that the captain under scrutiny had transferred accounts to their wives."

Officials said they eventually would require more than 200 banks to furnish the jurors with records of police captains' financial affairs.

NOBLE TIRES OF JAIL LIFE

Lawrence, April 21.—Russell Noble, Haverhill schoolboy, waiting indictment in the Essex County jail here for the murder of Mrs. Clara E. C. Ellis, spent a solitary holiday weekend in his cell.

Ordinarily cheerful and content to spend his days in reading, the combination of his solitude and the holiday festivities outside his cell window induced a more sober mood.

He expressed a wish that Dr. Clarence A. Bonner and Dr. L. Vernon Briggs, attorneys retained by the State to test his sanity, would call for the promised fifth examination.

Although the mental specialists announced on the occasion of their last call that a fifth call was necessary, their continued absence and the approach of the grand jury session on May 1 led many connected with the case to believe the mental examinations had been completed.

Choice Spring Dressings for Salad

Main dish salads—those hearty enough to serve as the main dish but lacking in richness—are "just the ticket" for these spring days. Some thin bread and butter, a simple dessert and a hot or cold drink completes an entire meal with little labor.

But in salads of this type the fruit or vegetables must be balanced with a generous amount of salad dressing—either one of the excellent brands that are standing up call, or the home-made kind which, if you are economically minded, you will probably make from an oil made from the pure heart of corn. There's a new method of making a salad dressing with this sweet, wholesome corn oil, which requires only half a minute of beating and, best of all, a whole pound may be made for less than 25 cents, and it can be kept and thinned down to double that amount as used.

UNCOOKED MAYONNAISE (New method)

1 egg
5 tbsp. sugar
1½ tsp. salt
2 tsp. dry mustard
¼ tsp. paprika
¼ cup vinegar
¼ cup salad oil
2 cup water
4 tbsp. cornstarch
Put egg, sugar, seasoning, vinegar and corn salad oil in mixing bowl, but do not stir. Make a paste by mixing cornstarch with ¼ cup water and cook over slow fire, stirring constantly until it boils and clears up. Add hot cornstarch mixture to ingredients in mixing bowl and beat briskly with Dover egg beater. Cool before serving.

UNCOOKED MAYONNAISE

(A smooth, stiff oil dressing)
½ tsp. mustard
1 tsp. salt
1 egg yolk
Lemon juice
1 cup salad oil
Cayenne and vinegar
Mix dry ingredients and add yolk of egg. Mix well and add one-half cup vinegar. Add oil gradually, drop by drop at first, then more quickly, beating with egg beater. As mixture thickens, thin with lemon juice or vinegar and continue adding oil. When finished mixture should be very stiff. Keep covered in refrigerator. Best results are obtained with use of salad oil made from corn.

CURRENT JELLY DRESSING

¼ cup corn oil
1½ tsp. lemon juice
1½ tsp. currant jelly
Combine ingredients, then beat well and serve with any fruit salad.

Faithfully yours,

Polish Much in Demand

Remember the trio of polishes we were talking of recently? One big department store reported they sold out the stove polish the first week a big shipment came in. I guess you haven't forgotten this famous family of polishes. You're evidently welcoming them back to your cleaning shelf just as I thought you would.

One lady wrote: "Are you sure these are the same polishes we used to get? Nothing was ever the same for silver as that metal polish. I've washed and washed it would buy it again."

Maybe that echoes your sentiment. Well, here they are back.

The Metal Polish and the stove polish with the wax base that melts right into the pores of the ugliest kitchen range and makes it shine like new, and the gentle, greaseless silver polish for your cherished silver.

If your dealer doesn't know that these old-time polishes are available again, tell him. If he served another generation of housekeepers, he'll remember how devoted they were to this trio of efficient polishes.

Spaghetti in Regal Form Pleases

At last I've fallen heir to a recipe for honest-to-goodness real Italian spaghetti. We made it recently in the Martha Lee Cooking School and I've been haunting Italian restaurants ever since trying to get enough of this delicious spaghetti. Served with a crisp salad or broiled Italian spaghetti made by the recipe is a one-dish dinner that it is hard to surpass. The recipe is worded just as it was by one of our Italian readers who sent it to us. We recommend it to you with our blessing.

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI

½ cup olive oil
1 large onion
Butter size of egg
3 pork chops
1 lb. stew beef
1 small can tomato paste
1 large can tomatoes
1½ lbs. spaghetti
Parmesan cheese
Salt and pepper to taste.
Put oil and butter in fairly large saucepan, slice onion, let cook slowly being careful not to let onions brown as this gives a bitter taste. Then add meat and salt and pepper to meat when meat has seared well, add tomato paste and tomatoes. If seeds are not desired they can be put through sieve first then added to the meat, add ¼ in. cinnamon. Cover pan and let cook for 10 minutes, then put on side of stove and let simmer for 1½ hours. Boil spaghetti in fresh boiling water that salt has been added to. Some people like spaghetti well done, some not so, it is a matter of how one likes it. Drain the spaghetti in colander. Then remove meat from the tomato and serve that separately, put a layer of spaghetti in a large bowl or whatever you are going to serve it in, a layer of Parmesan, a layer of gravy and more spaghetti and cheese and gravy and top off with a generous amount of cheese. In letting the gravy simmer be sure not to let it burn to the pan as it very apt to.

Tasty Filling

Try redish slices dipped in mayonnaise and placed on a layer of deviled ham for a sandwich filling.

FALSE ALARMS USED TO STOP BANK RUN

Kinston, N. C., April 21 (AP)—False fire alarms and siren blarney were resorted to today in an effort to halt a run on Kinston's one remaining bank after two others had closed.

The false fire alarms, rung in hopes they would distract a crowd of depositors gathered at the Farmers and Merchants' bank, failed to draw the crowd's interest.

Neither did the distant playing of a brass band which was brought into action.

Chamber of Commerce representatives pleaded from soap boxes for the depositors to leave their money with the bank.

The bank was meeting all demands this afternoon.

The run began when the National bank of Kinston failed to open this morning and an hour later the First National Bank closed.

New York, April 21 (INB)—A record book containing the names of Hollywood movie actors and actresses was seized today by federal agents in a raid directed against what they termed a $10,000,000 nationwide drug ring.

The raid was led by Chief Agent Joseph Manning, who said the book also contained the names of a Hollywood physician, and of physicians in the South and Middle West.

The federal agents descended on a Manhattan residence, seized the book, and arrested Jacob Jacobs, a 30-year-old actor.

Manning said the ring averaged profits of $100,000 a year. The Manhattan residence was said to be merely a clearing house, as only small quantities of heroin, morphine and opium were confiscated, selling drugs to agents, were arrested on the street. They described themselves as Samson Barnerman and George Smith.

DOCTOR'S AUTO FOUD AFTER 'KIDNAPING'

St. Louis, April 21 (AP)—The car which Dr. L. D. Kelley, wealthy and prominent St. Louis physician, was driving when he is believed to have been kidnaped last night while answering a sick call, was found this morning about six miles from the scene of the supposed kidnaping, according to police.

The car was found just west of Jennings in St. Louis county. Kelley was called from his home at 10 o'clock last night by a man whose name, Mrs. Kelley said, sounded like "Hilfman". She said the man apparently asked for Dr. Kelley to meet him at the western edge of the city, near Clayton, a suburb, and treat his nephew for an ear ailment.

The doctor declined the caller's proffer of an automobile and said he would go in one of his own automobiles.

When the physician failed to return at midnight, Mrs. Kelley became uneasy and called relatives, who got in touch with Len Becker, president of the St. Louis police board, and city and county police departments began an organized search.

Police were without a clue as to the whereabouts of the physician. No demand for ransom has been received by the doctor's family, as far as the authorities know.

Coats Shaped After Paris Models

By ANN ARDEN

WAS IT only a brief few months ago that we were being told that the fitted silhouette was the only fashionable possibility in coats? How fickle is this mode? Came the later Paris openings, and what should be the darlings of the couture but the good old straighter line! Silhouettes and stocks ought to vie for the uncertainty cup.

PERSONALLY we are overjoyed to see a return to some semblance of a straighter contour—especially when it is evident that the nice higher waistline need not be sacrificed. From the first few models that adopt this trend it would seem that the couturiers have sensibly decided that modern women enjoys the longer skirted, slightly belted waistline effect but does not generally go for the exaggeration of either. The results of this modification on their parts is decidedly satisfactory.

GAZE UPON the coat pictured—the line is simple and charming, there is almost a straightness to the very neckline, while the color is delightful, too. "Hinterwest," a soft mingling of red and orange. The material is a light-weight wool, the coat semi-fitted, with the wrap-around closing, and belt of the material, with matching buckles. The sleeves are attractive, open at wrist in loop effect, caught with one button. The flatter collar is of cream fur.

THE HAT is of brown pineapple straw, draped to shadow large one side, deep loop on the other, held by link ornament in brown and cream tones.

THE SOFTNESS of fox is something that no woman can resist, so it is logical to find many the smartest coats using blue狐 collars of it—usually in the blue or beige shades.

WHETHER OR not dark coats would go in for color contrasts in their fur is, now settled by the appearance of white fur on blue, black and brown coats. This use of white with these three shades is very striking especially the navy blue and brown coats that use either white狐 or fox. The white collared black coat is not quite so unusual due to its vogue for several seasons.

ANN ARDEN will answer questions concerning clothes, social customs or fashions generally. Address your questions to the Boston Evening American or the Boston Sunday Advertiser.

BETTER TIMES NEAR, SAYS ATTERBURY

Philadelphia, April 21 (AP)—The long-term trend of living conditions in this country is upward, and will continue so, W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, said today, addressing the Philadelphia Bond Club. It is possible, he added, to go too fast or to try to do too much at one time.

"We will get out of our present difficulties," he said, "as all fundamentally rich countries have in the past, and, I hope, with the minimum of 'muddling through'."

DEFENDS RAILROADS

"The maintenance of high living standards is a laudable national ambition, but perhaps we shall be on our way faster toward recovery with general realization that there is still sound truth in the old saying that the virtues of 'plain living and high thinking,' and sound economic laws still govern and control as always, even in this our so-called new era."

Atterbury said the tendency to stigmatize the railroad as other forms of industry in extraordinary recession for them was unwarranted. He said the effect of business depression upon railroads has been much the same as upon industry and commerce in general.

"DRAPING BOTTOM."

"When conditions improve here and abroad, railroad traffic and earnings will pick up equally with steel mills, coal mines and automobile plants," he said.

"The present decline in commerce, as distinguished from security prices," he said, "really began late in the spring or early summer of 1929. It has, therefore, been underway nearly two years, and precedent certainly favors the hope, in which I am glad to share, that we are arranging bottom, and that the trend should be upward in the not distant future."

WHAT RIGHTS HAS A FATHER?

Just to what extent has a father the right to rule his daughter's life?

Jennifer Rarick faces that problem. Her father is a typical multi-millionaire whose political wounds is a salve compounded of the nickel and dime, that have rolled into the title of his 3 and 10-cent stores.

Should Jennifer submit when her father goes into a rage over her association with a man whom she acknowledges to be a rotter?

Should she kick over the traces when he uses his authority to break her social engagements to suit his whims?

Should she permit him to smother her abilities, her intelligence and millions under an avalanche of money?

In "Five and Ten," Fannie Hurst's greatest novel of American life, you have this unusual situation of a family in which millions furnish the obstacle to the happiness of a girl who is basically sound and sane.

You'll want to read every installment of this story. Fannie Hurst. It begins Friday in the Evening American.

DOCTORS APPROVE TASTY FOODS

Often Recommend the Use of Sugar to Flavour Essential Foods

Doctors realize that essential foods composing the balanced diet are more eagerly eaten when they are made tasty by thoughtful cooking and seasoning.

As a matter of fact, doctors often suggest the use of sugar in seasoning vegetables such as spinach, peas and tomatoes. They are also in favor of sprinkling sugar on cereals or adding it to fruits that are too tart or lacking in flavor.

In vegetable cooking, a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a popular rule. Some cooks mix equal parts of salt and sugar together and keep it within reach. This combination can also be used to season meat, stews or pot-creams—also vegetable soups.

These suggestions regarding sugar apply to children's diet as well as adults'. Most foods are more delicious with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

It is called Veldown. And rigidly protected under United States Patents, there is no other pad like it—or even remotely like it. It is made in an entirely different way from any you have ever used.

The filter is superlative soft, pure RAYON cellulose. That is as gentle as fluffed silk.

The patented construction—along with the RAYON cellulose filter—eliminates all chafing, all discomfort from wearing a sanitary pad.

Every woman will know what this means.

5 Or More Times More Absorbent

Another feature—Veldown is absolutely impermeable. For the outer side has been specially treated to make it moisture proof and non-absorbent. This innovation makes Veldown 5 or more times more absorbent—so it gives COMPLETE PROTECTION and prevents HOLES LONGER than other sanitary methods. And no other protective garments are necessary!

Special treatment with a powerful deodorant ends even the slightest danger of embarrassment. Discomfort, of course, easily be used.

Accept Trial

Go today to any drug or department store. Obtain a box of Veldown. Use six. Then—if you don't feel that it is a Vast and Great Improvement on any other pad you have ever worn, return box—and receive your full purchase price back. Margaret Hopes to See Love Match

By FAITH BALDWIN
Author of "The Office Wife,"
"Alimony" and Other Famous Gossips.

WHAT HAS HAPPENED SO FAR
—LARRY LOU THURSTON, a beautiful and vivacious girl of the "home" type, orphaned by the death of her parents, lives with her aunt and uncle, Clara and Howard Sanderson. The former is active secretary to a publisher, and the latter an architect. Larry, a chubby, energetic young newspaper reporter, is Mary Lou's pal. Narcissus gets a wonderful business chance to go to the Orient and take his wife as secretary. Mary Lou is to stay temporarily with Grandma Jennings. Clara's mother, Larry is eager to marry Mary Lou and take care of her, but Mary Lou convinces him they are merely good pals and asks him to help her get a job. She applies at the Lorraine's and is claimed by the son of the house as his wife, named "Delight." Mary Lou qualifies as companion for Travers, who seems to find her different from his remembrance of his wife. The Lorraine's plan for the first day Christmas since the war. Mary Lou discovers her love for Larry.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

THAT WAS the hardest
thing for Mary Lou to bear;
that Travers loved . . . not her, but her masquerade; not Mary Lou Thurston, but the girl he thought she was, an unknown girl named Delight.
Harford who might or might not, at the present moment,
exist; loved, not even Delight herself but his memory of her, incarnate in Mary Lou's own person, transcribed into flesh and blood—three hundred dollars a month.

In love, in short, with a living girl who had taken upon herself a role, who daily practiced a deception.

It was worse than difficult, it was, almost unendurable. For Mary Lou, in her new guise and bitter wisdom, realized that at the price of a look or a word, at the least lifting of her hand, she could be in his arms, she could hear the broken words of love.
She could know again the soiling
caress of his embrace.

Temptation

What it would come to if she surrendered to this daily increasing temptation, she did not know.
—to marriage? But, he was already married to Delight, or so he said. And if she snatched him, surely, lived for a little while in a paradise of fools and dreamers, it would all come to an end, sooner or later. For that, once hearing that she loved him, he would become importu-nate, she knew. And so the deception could not go on, she would have to tell him the truth.
Margaret would have to know,
and it was not for nothing that she had been so long in the game with Mrs. Lorraine that Mary Lou should fall in love with Delight Harford.

So she spoke no word and made no gesture. She smiled and tried to be an even, rather chiding friendliness toward Larry, but concentrated all her efforts on his physical and mental welfare and gave his heart cold comfort.
Mrs. Lorraine, always quick on the uptake, noticed something—something so slight that it was hard to formulate into words, or even, into thoughts. But there seemed a certain lack of spontaneity in Mary Lou's attitude toward Lorraine, she seemed victimized. Always a victim, she said. Puzled Margaret asked
Dr. Matthews about it, one day.

Severe Shock

"She's different," Margaret said. "I can't explain it. It's not a new name for her. It's the way she looks. It's that she falls in love with him?" asked
Dr. Matthews, almost casually.
Margaret drew a long breath.
"Yes," she answered. "She announced, shamelessly, she loved him. She said it so obscurely to deep gravity."
"Oh, women!" he began . . .

GIRL SWIMMING CHAMPION IS TOO BUSY FOR LOVE

H. P. Philbrick, Accountant in E. E. Gray Case, Surrenders

Biddle's No. 3 MISS MADISON WILL REMAIN AMATEUR

Record Breaking Swimmer Is Too Busy for Love or Money-Making
Helene Madison, who shattered two world records and a half-dozen lesser marks in the swimming tank of the University club in a little more than a minute last night, is going to be very busy for the next few years—too busy, she declared today, to think of love or money-making.

Just before leaving for Toronto, the next stop on the itinerary of the galaxy of girl swimming and diving champions with whom she is touring, she definitely negatived the suggestion that she might capsize on her fame as the world's greatest woman swimmer.

"Yes, I've had a number of attractive offers to turn professional," the 17-year-old Seattle aquatic champion admitted, "but none of them tempted me to abandon my amateur status."

"I haven't any time for that. Maybe in four or five years, when I get old and settle from competition."

"Right now, I've got to finish another year in school, and every minute I can snatch from my studies I must devote to keeping in condition."

A fellow member of the relay team on which Miss Madison swam anchor during the exhibition was Miss Olive Hatch of Los Angeles, who yesterday met her father, William H. Hatch of Bedford, for the first time in 22 years.

Other members of the aquatic troupe who left the city today to continue their tour were Georgia Coleman, Dawn Gibson, Edna McKibben and Lucy Schectel.

Harvard fliers to carry on Despite two fatal accidents within nine days, the Harvard Flying Club will continue its activities and probably will not be affected by any faculty ruling, it was learned today. The faculty rejected both charges, in which planes owned by the club were wrecked, as accidents and not the result of careless flying or stunt-ism.

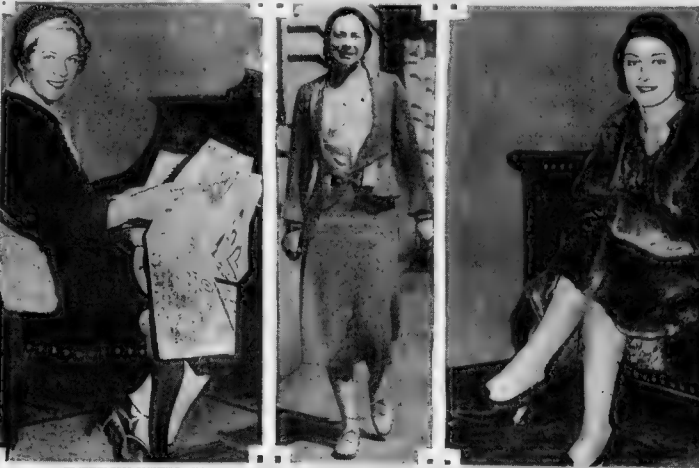

The first crash at Hingham on April 10 resulted in the death of one of the crew, a Harvard student. The second at Haverhill, Mass., on Sunday killed Stanley J. Crain, a nephew of Dist. Atty. Crahn of New York city, and Howard McIntyre of Vermont.

Although the club lost both its planes in the accidents, Frank Sproule, a former member of the club, today offered his own plane for use for the balance of the season.

Methuen Man Fined in Racing Lottery Walter A. Margerson of Birchwood, at Methuen, pleaded guilty before Judge James A. Lowell in Federal Court today to a charge of sending illegal tickets through the mails. He was fined $50 and placed on probation for one year.

Bellevue Prisoner's recognized skill of the Brockton shoeworkers should be given consideration, Business Agent Lord said no reduction in wages should be granted until it has been demonstrated that the skill of local workers does not offset outside competition.

MARKS, BUT NOT CUPID'S, AIM OF THESE MERMAIDS

NATIONAL DIVING CHAMPION Georgia Coleman, of Los Angeles, gave an exhibition at the swimming meet at the University Club that revealed why she holds the title of champion woman diver.

WORLD BEATER Helene Madison broke two world records. Ignoring love, she will continue to try to hold her title.

FORMER TITLE-HOLDER Olive Hatch, former holder of the 100-meter record, is another of the troupe from the Pacific coast that is touring the country giving exhibitions. (Staff photos.)

Do you want to get money for being alert? If so, the Boston Evening American offers the opportunity. Each week $50 in prizes will be given for news and picture tips telephoned in to the News-Tip Editor at Liberty 4000.

What is a news tip? It's the information that something of interest to Greater Bostonians has taken place or will take place. Do you know, for instance, that an interesting picture is to be obtained, that an accident or an unusual event has happened, that there is going to be a business merger? That's a news tip.

If you have a camera, take a picture of some news event while it is happening. Bring your pictures to the American quick. Delay often spoils them for use.

GUARD AT RITES: POPE GREETS FOR SLAIN WIFE BOSTON BRIDE

Funeral services for Mrs. Esther Colledanchise, slain last Friday at her home, Hudson st., Somerville, took place in the Church of the Most Precious Blood, Hyde Park, today with a police detail on guard.

While mass was being celebrated by the Rev. Michael Houlihan, the three policemen stood outside the church to prevent trouble which it was feared a relative might cause.

According to police, the relative appeared last night at the home of Bonifacio Lattana's father of Los Angeles, from where the funeral was held, announced his intention of being present at the funeral, and riding in the first carriage.

Dorchester Man Is Accused of Aiding in an Alleged Conspiracy Case

Hezen P. Philbrick, certified public accountant of 101 Murt at one of five men indicted by the special grand jury in connection with the attorney-general's probe of the E. E. Gray Co., surrendered today and was arraigned in Suffolk Superior Criminal Court.

Philbrick pleaded not guilty to various counts in the indictment charging conspiracy, and was held in $5000 by Judge Harold P. Williams Jr. for trial on May 2.

Philbrick, who lives at 18 Mt. Rowden st., Dorchester, was charged with others with conspiracy to make false entries, falsify reports and larceny.

SECOND TO SURRENDER His counsel, Daniel J. Lorne and Richard A. Everts, conferred with Atty.-Gen. Joseph E. Warner and his assistant, Louis Sawyer, with regard to the surrender of their client.

Philbrick was the second of those indicted to give himself up. The first, E. Harding, a director of the company, having surrendered previously and been released in $5000 bail.

His arrangements are expected to be made in the near future for one of the most prominent of the officials of the E. E. Gray Co., the investigation of which was started after it had gone into the hands of receivers.

MANY INDICTED The former president of the company, Elmer E. Gray, is said to be ill at his home. The attorney-general's investigation is said to have revealed a deficit of more than $200,000, and that at least $350,000 in loans was negotiated or misrepresented of physical assets.

The government alleges that records were falsified in order to obtain these loans from Boston and New York banks.

As a result of the evidence revealed by the probe, the Suffolk County grand jury has indicted 11 persons, carrying a score or more of counts several weeks ago.

These indictments are understood to name many prominent men, who have been and are being investigated in various capacities.

Some of the names of the oldest and largest in New England, was sold by the receivers to John C. H. Baker of Boston.

BUSINESS USERS OF THE TELEPHONE

TIME is a vital element in the operation of a structural steel plant. The product must be scheduled to keep pace with construction.

Changes in blue-prints sometimes are necessary even while a job is going through the mill. To wait for new blue-prints would be expensive for all concerned. It would mean idleness in the plant; inactivity on the job. And overhead costs going on all the time.

Here's how the telephone saves all this waste: The contractor calls The Palmer Steel Company engineering department, explains the necessary changes, and agrees to confirm them by blue-prints; approval of the Steel Company's details is also secured by telephone. Thus days of time have been saved on many jobs, among them the new Sterling Hall of Medicine at Yale University.

HOW many business users of the telephone know of the variety of services available to help them function effectively and economically—short-period circuits to reduce toll bills, the Key-Town Sales Plan, the Telephone Typewriter and others?

The Telephone Company has trained representatives, qualified to explain these special services, and to suggest how they may be adapted to your business needs. This advice is yours for the asking. Just call our Business Office.

STEADY GAIN IN N. E. BUSINESS REPORTED

Washington, April 20 (U.S.)—Wage cutting tendencies which have been manifest in some of the small industries, are rapidly diminishing, Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of the President's emergency employment committee, announced today.

Wage cutting has been on a very small scale during the present depression and the practice has been confined to weaker concerns, Woods emphasized.

EMPLOYMENT INCREASES

Woods also gave out other encouraging news. He reported a ten per cent pickup in employment in the south eastern states. He also said contracts for public and semi-public construction projects awarded in the past week totaled $75,000,000.

The total of 368 construction contracts awarded in 20 states in the past week includes federal and state buildings, hospitals, bridges, highways, sewers and dams and dams.

GAIN HERE CONTINUES

Woods also reported a pickup in New England saying the business improvement since the first of the year is continuing. The textile and shoe industries are the biggest gains. Employment increased in the past three months and in the first of the year.

The west reports, however, continued a decline in employment. Industrial employment has increased in the past three months and has become so few that the first signs of a withdrawal from that service.

A report from Chicago told Woods that 10,000 merchants from 27 states have flocked into the city to replenish their merchandise stocks.

DOG CORPENT OF MACKEREL

One of the latest rail shipments of mackerel to come into Boston, this morning, arrived in the city at a price of mackerel dropped to 10 cents a pound, where it was 13 cents.

This is the lowest price ever received for mackerel in Boston at the season of the year. On Saturday, the price was 20 cents a pound, wholesale.

The shipment totaled 645,000 fish. It is part of a total of 1,000,000 pounds caught 100 miles southeast of Cape May, N. J., by 23 fishing boats last week.

What can be done with Life Insurance

(2) Replacement of

WHEN personal income is fixed by death or disability, or even by old age, the need for the income is seldom removed, and the obligation continues.

Usually, the home must be maintained, bills paid, children educated, and the continuity of living expenses met.

Under satisfactory arrangements made in advance, the need for income is relieved in the event of untimely death of the family.

There is no insurance, a given sum may be made payable to the insured or to his family, or to the wife and child, to take the place of the regular income which the insured was to provide.

SYNOPSIS: When the idealistic John Wayne, who is a clair, is kidnapped, in desperation he complies with the abductors' demands to send them a famous diamond. The United States and the world are thrown into a state of confusion. The diamond is worth $10,000,000. Their identities revealed, they direct him to a cave where he finds a man, with terrible visions of a man who has been killed. He steals the diamond and determines to punish the unknown man and a fake fellow-crook, and his first move is to disappear through a hole in the wall. Emerging in the underworld as John Wayne, he continues his search, one by one, telling him to wait. There, prowling at night, he finds a murdered man, and after a battle is arrested by a policeman who thinks he is the murderer.

CHAPTER 20 Living Death

I HAVE no complaint to make of my treatment in San Pedro Jail, and had been the murderer of the man I was supposed to have killed. I had nothing more than I deserved.

Port of Boston News

By JAMES A. DELANEY

Because authorities in Boston Harbor cannot enforce rules and regulations governing the dumping of oil and refuse within the harbor, the Port of Boston is threatened with loss of the live lobster industry, due to pollution of the water.

The Massachusetts State Authorities, Harbor Police, the Maritime Association, the Boston Chamber of Commerce, and the Boston Port Authority have all worked towards enforcement of the strict rules and regulations regarding the emptying of oil and refuse in the harbor, but despite their combined efforts the practice continues.

Complaints of the dealers having had no effect in remedying the situation, the Consolidated Lobster Co., one of the largest lobster companies in the world, has decided to transfer its business from Boston. The company has been in the business at Bay View, on the North Shore, near Lawrenceville, within a week it has been announced.

Gasoline smacks, which previously ran lobster into Boston from Nova Scotia, will put into Bay View the lobsters will be trucked to Boston.

I have written some volumes telling of their lives in the New York Times. I remember the day of my first awakening to life and to reality. I must have been a child, for I remember the first time I saw a man, and in some sort, conscious of the fact that I was a normal human being.

Others have found me in the State Criminal Asylum, instead of the Penitentiary.

But I have no clear and coherent memory of either of the two trials that I underwent, nor of my life in the asylum, and I am finally sentenced and committed to the San Pedro prison.

I remembered sending a desperate message to the outside world, telling him that I would make him rich for life. He would have to wait, for I was waiting for him to come to me. I was waiting for him to come to me.
